R.I.E.P TO RICHARD TAYLOR (OBE)

It is with great sadness we report the death of Richard Taylor (Father of Damilola Taylor).

Richard Adeyemi Taylor OBE, passed away in the early hours of Saturday March 23rd 2024, at Queen Elizabeth Hospital, Woolwich, after a prolonged battle with prostate cancer

He dedicated years to improving the lives of disadvantaged children in the wake of his son's death.

Damilola was left bleeding to death in a stairwell in Peckham, south-east London, after he was attacked and slashed with a broken bottle on his way home from a library. His death shocked the nation and became one of London's most high-profile killings.

After three crown court trials, his killers - brothers Ricky and Danny Preddie - were jailed in 2006.

Richard Taylor and his late wife Gloria were spurred on to set up a charity in their son's memory following his death.

Gloria died in 2008 after suffering a heart attack and Mr Taylor continued their work in the following years.

When Mr Taylor stepped back from campaigning in early-2020, he told journalists how he had done his bit for two decades.

Mr Taylor was awarded an OBE in 2012 for his crusade against violent crime and dedicated it to the memory of Damilola.

AFBE Live Conference - 15th Anniversary

The Association for Black and Minority Ethnic Engineers (AFBE- UK) was established in 2007 to address the under representation of ethnic minorities in the engineering workforce. AFBE seeks to showcase and support the technical talent available within the Black and Minority Ethnic community through professional development, career placement services, mentorship opportunities, community engagement and by influencing governmental policies.

Since our inception 16 years ago, AFBE has aimed to achieve three objectives:-

- To attract more people from minority ethnic backgrounds into the engineering profession
- To enable retention and progression of talent within the industry through mentoring of aspiring engineers.
- To equip engineers to progress to leadership roles and to then become role models for the next generation.

AFBE has over 2,500 members spread across the UK and 80 corporate organisation members and is supported by various industry partners and government bodies. The first conference themed was “The future of Engineering – Sustainability, Innovation & Diversity” held in April 2022 was a remarkable success with over 500 attendees. With a remarkable turn-out from partner organisations, universities, members, and other professional bodies from all over the UK.

INTERNATIONAL NEWS

Dominica Building It's First International Airport

The Commonwealth of Dominica is constructing its first International Airport in Wesley. With this, the Caribbean Island country is aiming to enhance its global connectivity and transform its tourism landscape. The airport is stated for completion by 2025, stands as a beacon of progress for the island nation.

The Redonda Ecosystem

The Redonda Ecosystem Reserve, which also encompasses surrounding seagrass meadows and a coral reef, spans a colossal 30,000 hectares (74,000 acres). Its sheer size means the country has already met its "30x30" target, a global goal to protect 30% of the planet for nature by 2030.

Now the tenacious Antiguan and Barbudans who led the metamorphosis of the country's little known third isle of Redonda are celebrating another impressive feat.

The mile-long spot has been officially designated a protected area by the country's government, ensuring its status as a pivotal nesting site for migrating birds and a home for species found nowhere else on Earth is preserved for posterity. It did not always look like this. Invasive black rats that preyed on reptiles and ate birds' eggs, along with goats introduced by early colonists that devastated Redonda's vegetation, had left the island looking like a barren moonscape. An ambitious project launched in 2016 to relocate the goats and eradicate the rats saw the greenery spring back to life, bringing with it an exponential rise in native species. Today, Redonda is bursting with biodiversity including dozens of threatened species, globally important seabird colonies, and endemic lizards.

ExxonMobil Guyana announces new discovery

ExxonMobil Guyana today announced a discovery at Bluefin in the Stabroek block offshore Guyana, the company's first discovery of 2024. The Bluefin well encountered approximately 197 feet (60 metres) of hydrocarbon-bearing sandstone and was drilled by the Stena Drillmax drillship in 4,244 feet (1,294 metres) of water.

The Bluefin well is located approximately 8.5 kilometres southeast of the Sailfin-1 well, in the southeastern portion Stabroek block. "Our exploration program continues to improve our understanding of the block's potential to drive viable oil-and-gas development. This latest find reinforces that we have the people, skills and technology to safely and responsibly deliver value to Guyana from the country's resources," said President of ExxonMobil Guyana Alistair Routledge.
